

PROGRAM OF THE EVENTS

Saturday, September 12th, 11:30 am

Africans of Europe / Africans in Europe

A new generation of African writers who direct themselves toward "minority" European languages - Dutch, Catalan, Italian- is establishing itself in Europe, expressing a new idea of métissage and offering untold insight on the continent of origin and on the country of residence. New crossings and paths of African writers in Europe.

Introduces and coordinates Paola Splendore with Igiaba Scego.

Participating writers Najat El Hachmi, Jadelin M. Gangbé and Chika Unigwe.

Saturday, September 12th, at 17:15

Africa at school

Can a school with children of migrants from Africa continue to ignore the existence of African literature and of its Nobel Prizes? The experiences of libraries in Rome, the work of the "Författarcentrum" in Sweden and WikiAfrica Literature's new project for schools.

Introduces and coordinates Livia Apa.

Participate Cristina Ali Farah, Giorgio De Marchis, Gunilla Lundgren and Gabriella Sanna.

Sunday, September 13th, 11:30 am

Rights / exclusions / memberships

What exclusions and belongings testify the complex multicultural reality of today's Italy? What are the current portrayals? Movies and participated video narrations of the schools for refugees and asylum seekers Asinitas of Rome. The tales, stories and images "at child's heights" from Carlo Pisacane school in Rome, the epicenter of the confrontation between acceptance and intolerance in Italy.

Coordinators Marco Carsetti and Alessandro Triulzi

Participate Cecilia Bartoli, Giulio Cederna, Angelo Loy, Chiara Mammarella, Mariem Mohamed Saney, Dagmawi Yimer and Alessandra Smerilli.

The three meetings curated by Fondazione lettera27 Onlus and WikiAfrica are held at the Episcopal Seminary. The meeting and the discussion create new entries at Wikipedia live in real time and go live and podcast on Afriradio.it.

lettera27 is a non profit foundation, founded in July 2006. Its mission is to support the right to literacy, education and, more generally, to promote access to knowledge and information. lettera27 is the twenty-seventh letter, the missing letter, the letter that has not yet been written, the hybrid letter, the space to fill, the connection between writing and orality, the connection with the future, the intersection between analogic and digital.

In collaboration with Wikimedia Italy, lettera27 has promoted WikiAfrica, a project to Africanize Wikipedia through networks, researches, publications and events: www.wikiafrica.org .
